

“God Does Not Trust Everyone” - Discussion Questions

---

1. What was interesting in today's Exchange service? What was confusing?
2. What does a faithful person look like in 2014? Who is a modern example of faith for you?
3. What inspires you to have faith in God?
4. Can you believe in “the right things” and still not have faith?
5. Can you have faith in “the wrong things”? Does God care what we believe, or just that we believe?
6. Did those with the most doctrine in Jesus' day find it easier or harder to 'believe in him'?
7. In order to believe in Jesus people had to doubt some of their previous concepts of God. True or false?
8. Is faith trying hard to believe things that are very difficult to believe?
9. What is the opposite of faith? Is it doubt? Or is it anxiety?
10. How is it fair that some people seem to find faith easily and others find it difficult?
11. Why doesn't God work more miracles or provide more evidence for His existence and for the truth of His words?
12. Does God show more of Himself to those with faith? (more answers to prayers, more signs and miracles?)
13. In the everyday world, is it the case that the more belief (in whatever), the better?
14. How can you trust (in the relationship sense) someone who isn't physically here?
15. What personal application are you leaving with from today's Exchange?
